Felicity's approach

- Acknowledges our peer status as coaches to create a partnership that is additive to your development
- Is grounded in the Relational Supervision framework which encourages exploration of coaching through 9 different lens to bring fresh perspective
- Draws on experiences of coaching gathered over 15 years in different contexts and with clients at all stages of development.

Individual Supervision is ideal for coaches who love depth of exploration and to look beyond client challenges towards the themes and patterns of their coaching.

"Felicity creates a wonderful safe reflective space to explore my practice and I always leave with new realisations and insights enabling my ongoing development. I have especially valued the range of creative approaches she has brought to our conversations and the flexibility to the topics covered."
